Trash Haulers Settlement Expected

A possible quick end to the trash haulers' strike, well into its second week, was indicated here this week with more votes scheduled Tuesday for the striking workers on whether to go back to work.

"The men have had a different change of heart," Gene Raasch, Los Angeles, president of Teamsters Union Local 396, reported Tuesday. "This time they want to go back to work."

Raasch said that the men had recently voted down the offer from the various disposal companies, he expects them now to accept.

Company spokesmen, including Raul Rangel, vice president of Jaycox Disposal Service, Anaheim, which is contracted to collect Placentia refuse, stated last week that the companies offer of an increase to $3.75 an hour for drivers was their final one.

However, indications are now that the counter offer from the union of a $4 an hour wage for drivers, is the one being discussed. Company officials were not immediately available for comment.

Raasch's optimism for the end of the disagreement, which has left refuse piled high on curbs in this area and throughout most of Orange County, is based on a new voting system, where men from each individual company will take a separate vote.

"There will be a petition from each yard and it will be signed by the men from each yard," Raasch explained.

"We might be back to work tomorrow (Wednesday) morning," Raasch stated optimistically.

The settlement, according to Raasch's statement, would give drivers of the refuse trucks a 72 cent hourly increase the first year and 25 cents each year for the next two years. The boost would be retroactive to April 18 and Stewards and men who have been with the company the longest time and have the most seniority, would get the preferred overtime and double time week end work.

The workers receive time and a half over 40 hours.

Jaycox Disposal Service, servicing Placentia, said that calls there had decreased, but those who call in are told to leave their trash by the curb "and it will be picked up eventually. But we don't give any specific time."

The Anaheim based firm had experienced the most costly act of the violence which has dotted the week and a half old strike, when two of its disposal trucks were found burning on the company lot. One truck was reported to have suffered $6,000 in damages with fire damage to the other minimal.

On some occasions, outside help hired to run the trucks for the companies, while permanent employees were striking, had met with rough-house tactics and two men had been pulled from the truck cabs in which they were working.

Rangel, who is a Placentia resident, had indicated here that trucks are continuing pickups in this area on a limited basis, with commercial customers receiving top priority. Residential pickups have been made in most of the Placentia area east of Kraemer Boulevard but other sections are still trash-lined in the western sector with a week and a half accumulation!

Union spokesmen also indicated that all men would be returned to their jobs as a condition of the settlement.

Students Arrive May 15

Placentia's first exchange class... 22 youngsters from Piacenza, Italy, has been tentatively scheduled to set foot on American soil at Los Angeles International Airport at 8 p.m., Thursday, May 15, the welcoming committee reports.

Mrs. Patricia Alves of Morse Avenue Elementary School PTA said housing has already been arranged for the youngsters and the adults accompanying them. The visitors, planning a ten day stay, will share time in homes of students at the Morse School and St. Joseph's Catholic School.

Plans now are for the Morse School students to go to the airport to greet the visitors and St. Joseph students to see them off on their return home.

Arrangements and schedules were underway to assure the young travelers some sightseeing trips and expeditions on their long journey away from home. Hopefully on the schedule will be Disneyland, Knott's Berry Farm, Marineland, the Movieland Wax Museum, San Juan Capistrano Mission and other places of interest.

Morse students have announced a cup cake sale Thursday to raise entertainment funds for the visiting class and anyone who would like to make contributions of any kind is encouraged to contact Mrs. Alves at 524-3378.

A city picnic is being planned for Vaqueros Park Sunday, May 18 when the young visitors are in Placentia, USA. The public is welcome to attend and should bring their own food.

A mail strike in Italy has complicated communication but hosts here are relying on telephone messages to complete the plans for the trip.

The students are first expected to land at New York and go through customs there before progressing by plane to the west coast.

The long journey by the class from the Giordani School in Piacenza, Italy was first prompted by a visit of Placentia, Dr. James Clopton to the Italian city which shares this community's name. The students heard about Placentia, USA from newspaper coverage of the doctor's visit there.

Students from both local classes were soon writing the Italian students and through the months the idea of the trip began to form. All of the students involved are fifth graders.

Please Leave Space For Handicapped

Patrons of the Placentia Post Office are asked to observe the facility's one parking space for the handicapped, immediately south of the main entrance, Al Lopas, Postmaster, urged this week.

Lopas said that post office customers may not realize that the specially marked parking space with the wheel chair-circled insignia is for the handicapped and must be reserved for their use.

Patrons, with no noticeable handicaps, have been using the space, forcing those people for whom it was intended, on occasion, to walk the distance of the partking lot, he pointed out.

SOMETHING TRASHY is going on around here, and Miss Foxy Lady Tiffany, a pedigreed Spitz-American Eskimo investigates the situation in the mounting trash piles in her Placentia neighborhood. As talks broke down again among refuse haulers and their employers, the piles of trash throughout the county began to mount. Placentia, however, is faring better than most communities, Jaycox Disposal Service reports. This is two weeks trash in front of this Placentia home. [Picture by Jane Caswell].

Daughter Assists Vietnamese Airlift

Mrs. Kathie Dalton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas M. (Neva) Johnson of Placentia, has been volunteering her services in the evacuation and airlift of Vietnamese and Cambodian orphans and families on their way to the United States.

Mrs. Dalton is the wife of Captain Donald M. Dalton who is stationed at Clark Air Force Base at Angeles in the Philippines.

A former student at Fullerton Junior College and a graduate of Brigham Young University at Provo, Utah, Mrs. Dalton has written her mother of the orphans who were housed, fed and given medical treatment at the bases' facilities, before continuing their long journey to freedom.

"We're up to our hips in Vietnamese evacuees around here," she wrote last week. "Rumor was that there were 6,000 here today and the rest are heading for Guam.

"It's very sad to see people forced to leave or be killed just because of their association with the United States.

"They all have USA sponsors," she continues, "and homes to go to, but still the baby lift lasted about one and a half to two weeks.

"This week is harder," she explains. "More people, more work on eight-hour shifts and more complaints to hear.

"Many GIs at our base feel imposed upon.

"You really need to live in Southeast Asia to really understand. You can't get it from the TV, news, et cetera in the United States," she concludes.

Mrs. Johnson said that her daughter and son-in-law, who have five young children, were originally assigned to go to Cambodia, but as no families were allowed there her son-in-law was placed instead on the Philippine list.

The couple's five children are four boys and a girl from 10 years of age to 3-year-old twins, Mrs. Johnson said.

The Daltons will be in the Philippines for another year.

PUSD Employees May Find 5%

A four and one half per cent target figure for a combination of increased salaries and other comparisons for employees of the Placentia Unified School District was forwarded Saturday by the PUSD Board of Trustees as the group instructed staff to try to find still more.

The action was taken during a special Saturday budget session at which staff was instructed to continue combing the more than 200-page $20 million budget "to attempt to achieve a five per cent figure for this purpose."

Classified employees of the district, inaugurating their negotiations for the year, have sought the five per cent boost. Certificated personnel declined to name a figure but have expressed their desire for more money.

"The board and administrative staff have been very diligent in the review of the budget for the year," Dr. William Yates, PUSD board president stated this week. "There have been many significant reductions in many areas of the budget."

"We've also had many excellent suggestions from employee groups and those suggested curtailments have been taken into account in reductions in the budget.

"The result of this effort has manifested itself in actions taken on Saturday. Our board fully intends to negotiate in good faith with employees, realizing simultaneously the cost of living increases that they are experiencing and the tax burden that is on the patrons of our district."

"We have established our salary increase objectives with the maintenance of the current tax rate as a simultaneous goal. Our whole strategy in this time of economic crisis in our nation, is honesty, straight forwardness and telling it like it is.

"We believe this is the only way to maintain good employee relations and to maintain the high morale required for our classroom teachers.

"The board has directed its representative John Tynes, to continue to explore the proposals of the employee groups," Dr. Yates concluded.

In addition Saturday, the board put approximately $236,000 into the budget for board and superintendent priorities, including money to expand successful pilot projects, reinstatement of the position of director of program evaluation and research for 11 months, placement of assistant principals on a 12-month contract for 1975-76 (11 months had been discussed), purchase and scoring of math and reading achievement tests, aides for Valencia High Schools math lab and SEA program, funds to bring some

Courier Carries Reagan Column

Ronald Reagan, former movie star, two-term governor of the nation's most populous state and a leading spokesman for the nation's conservative thinkers, now has become a newspaper columnist.

The man who put the California state budget back into the black, turning it around from a 1966 million-dollar-a-day deficit, will write a weekly column for The Placentia Courier, beginning with this issue.

After eight years as governor, Reagan did not seek a third term. In the past he has been a U.S. presidential contender and is a potential presidential candidate in 1976. His column will deal with national and international events as seen from the conservative viewpoint.

He will cover everything from the energy crisis to Vietnam and Fidel Castro.

Former Councilman Fined

Former Brea Councilman, Donald V. Symmes, who resigned his position after a jury found him guilty of shoplifting, has been assessed a fine of $500 with an additional $125 in penalties by Judge Phillip McGraw as sentence in the case.

The fine was paid as choice over a 10-day jail sentence and after a 30-day jail sentence was suspended.

Symmes' attorney, Michael R. McDonnell said that the former councilman has not been placed on probation.

The former Brea Councilman, who is a teacher at Troy High School, was found guilty in a second trial, resulting from charges that he had taken a woman's coat from the J.C. Penney Company in Fullerton, without paying for it, on December 23 last year.

Symmes declared it was forgetfullness and said that if he were found guilty he would resign both his council seat and his teaching job. A first trial resulted in a hung jury.

The Fullerton Union High School District has stated that it has received no indication that Symmes intends to leave his teaching post.

Guziks Gather For Mother's Day

Mother's Day, Sunday, May 11, at the Sam Guzik house in Placentia, will be a big event this year.

One of the city's largest families, the Guziks number 13 children...and are growing.

The growth is attributable to two attractive daughters-in-law, one grandchild and one expected.

The Guziks, a good-looking crew, radiate their togetherness and camaraderie. They have lived in the attractive yellow and white Placentia house for 11 years. Enough time for Guzik youngsters to attend Sierra Vista, St. Joseph's Catholic School, Kraemer Junior High, Valencia, Troy and El Dorado High Schools; Fullerton Junior College, Cal State Fullerton and one son at Cal State Los Angeles.

The newest daughter-in-law, Suzanne Thummel now married to Timothy Guzik, is a runner-up to Miss Placentia, 1975.

Oldest son, Patrick, 27, who lives in Yorba Linda and Dad and Mother, Frances, are the only Guziks not now in school somewhere.

Dad, affectionately known in the family as "Yosemite Sam", in honor of his favorite camping, fishing area, when not occupied with outdoor activity is a Quality Engineer with Hughes Aircraft in Culver City, also necessitating time spent on a number of freeway trips.

Frances, mother of the attractive group, considers herself a housewife first. Outside employment is secondary, when time and circumstances permit and she has recently worked at St. Jude Hospital in Fullerton.

Both Mom and Dad are veterans of World War II and it was this service that caused them to meet. Sam, who had won the Bronze Star, was in an army hospital in Colorado. Frances, in the Navy, was in Denver. Their paths crossed.

In their full life, Guzik has been employed by Hughes Aircraft for 19 years, first in Michigan, then Hughes relocated the family here.

"It was all orange groves," Guzik recalls the Placentia area when the family first arrived. "There was no Cal State and no El Dorado High School."

The Guziks then numbered nine. The other two youngsters have been born since they came to this community.

Their 13 children's compelling interests and outside activities have left little time for the Guziks to engage in adult organizations...unless they are youth oriented.

They have sponsored their youngsters in such endeavors as Michael playing football for Valencia High School; Timothy, football at El Dorado; Juliana swimming with the Swim Team of Placentia; Mark's wrestling; Nannette on the Student Council at El Dorado; Cecilia on the drill team at El Dorado. Shawn plays Soccer and is in the Little League Lions and Gregory is with the Dodgers.

The family is especially proud of son Daniel who suffers from muscular dystrophy and is confined to a wheel chair, but despite the physical disability, has almost completed his degree at Cal State Fullerton in sports writing and public relations.

Daniel shares an apartment with Ted Minter, whose father is Fullerton Dr. Fred W. Minter. Having lost former roommate Timothy Guzik to Miss Thummel, the two young men are now setting out to see the world. They have been to Hawaii and San Francisco and are presently looking longingly at Florida. Minter is employed by Kirkhill Rubber Company.

With nine youngsters now living at home, the Guziks look on their family with understandable pride. "We bever had any real problems with them," Guzik says proudly. "They have good habits."

"But they sure like to eat!", he adds in good humor. "When everyone was at home for a meal we would cook ten pounds of potatoes and four chickens if they were large ones...five if medium."

THE RACE IS ON!--Valencia High School's foreign exchange student from Sweden, Ragnar Erkander, heaves his bale of hay in place as Jeff Raddatz races to get another stack in the preliminary round of Valencia's hay stacking contest last week. Ragnar and his partner Steve Barber, not only won this round but went all the way to capture the $10 prize. [center Photo]: Steve Barber reaches for the victory flag from his perch on the bales of hay he and partner Ragnar Erkander have just stacked.

BACK TO THE BARN--Now that the fun is over, the work begins. Vocational agriculture students load the hay back on the wagon to return to the barns after the hay-stacking contest is over. The bales were quite a bit the worse for wear and the city kids found out the hard way that it's really work to "tote that bale". Down On The Ag Farm -

It's Hay Stacking Time

BY JANE CASWELL

Valencia High School students gathered in the quad last week to test their skill with bales of hay...or just to watch the fun.

The event was sponsored by the vocational agriculture students who ran the show and were excluded from participation.

Hay stacking rules went like this. The students suspended a kerchief on binders' twine between two ladders at one end of the "playing field" and laid out bales of hay at the other.

On the command "go", the two teams raced down the field to fetch a bale and haul it back under the starting line. The object was to see which team could drag or carry eight bales of hay to the starting line, stack them up and climb up to retrieve the kerchief.

Winners faced a second round and the top two from the semi-finals faced each other for the championship. A couple of teams lost out when their stacks...and faces fell.

After one lap of the contest, ag students dragged the bales back to the original position. As muscles complained and time grew short, it was discovered that it was much easier to move the starting line than the bales.

Eight teams entered the contest including one team of teachers, English teacher Jim Drummond and math instructor Tim Higgins, who put up a valiant fight against the odds.

Letters To The Editor..... Bicentennial Year

To The Editor:

On behalf of the Placentia Bicentennial Committee I wish to thank all of those who worked with us to commemorate the 200th anniversary of Paul Revere's ride, and to start the Bicentennial Year in Placentia, on April 18, 1975.

Dr. Marvin Stewart, Lynda Abrams, El Dorado Principal Jerry Hertberg, and AF M/Sgt (retired) Bill McKenzie and members of the state award winning El Dorado Jr. ROTC AF honor guard all were most cooperative.

appearance. Bill Foster, Rich Perales, and members of the Valencia brass ensemble are thanked for their cooperation and planning.

To Valencia High speech instructor John DeNike, our thanks for cooperation and warm counsel. His current outstanding student, Barry Zoeller, winner for many county and state speech awards, took time to write original material which was both interesting in content and in the message.

Those looking for a message for the Bicentennial year might look no further than this young man's message to us all.

To the two young men who led the flag salute in the absence of our Mayor or his representative, our special thanks.

Dave Snow and his library staff came through with information on the Bennington flag which was timely and helpful.

To those city staff members who did find time to help and attend the ceremony we also extend our thanks. Betty Bradford got the flag in place and Jack Slota made the necessary arrangements, despite an addition to his family that same week.

Placentia Bicentennial Committee will aid Children's Hospital of Orange County in a ceremony planned for the raising of their Bennington Flag, donated by Dr. Marcus Gartner to CHOC, on May 9th at 3:30 p.m. At that time, the full El Dorado Drill team and honor guard will be featured for those who have not seen this team in action. They will be carrying the Placentia committee flags which include the Gadsen "Don't Tread On Me" flag.

In the planning stages now is a June ceremony which will raise the Bicentennial flag itself for the first time in Placentia on or near Flag Day, June 14th.

It was on May 10th, 200 years ago, that the 2nd Continental Congress met in Philadelphia and authorized payment of the various militia which, in fact, was one of the key events in the Revolution.

The Bicentennial celebration will last through 1976. Also in the planning stages is a special July 4th celebration this year. Those wishing to ask questions or comment please write to P.O. Box 1776, Placentia, California.

The Ronald Reagan Column

By RONALD REAGAN
Copley News Service

Big government breeds bigger government--especially in times of crisis. That has become a truism. And, the best recent example of this is the so-called energy crisis with which the United States has been beset for the last two years.

Efforts to cope with the "crisis" have bred new agencies at both the state and federal levels. Unfortunately, new agencies mean more than just adding bureaucrats and additional budgets to the cost of government. They also mean new rules, regulations and controls, all part of the self-justification process for continuation of the agencies.

Sadly, long experience shows that these seldom meet expectations and the good they do is not often worth the cost, either in dollars or in loss of freedom

A few months ago the influential and wealthy Ford Foundation issued the results of a three-year, $4 million study called "A Time To Choose America's Energy Future". It was hailed by various experts, government officials and members of Congress for pointing the way toward a logical, long-range energy policy for the United States.

But does it really?

A closer look and a careful analysis produced by a small, new foundation, the Institute for Contemporary Studies, in San Francisco, takes sharp issue with the Ford study.

Trenchantly titled "No Time To Confuse," the analysis is the work of 10 highly respected economists and political scientists. What it concludes is that the Ford study merely offers us more of the same kind of "solutions" that big government advocates have been handing us all along: controls over production, distribution and prices; mandatory guidelines; and proposals that aim, not at finding and developing enough energy sources to allow America to be independent and to continue to grow and expand, but rather at limiting energy consumption and controlling how each one of us uses it.

In fact, "No Time To Confuse" finds that the authors of "A Time To Choose" are more interested in presenting their own views of how they think the world should be than they are in developing an energy policy that will function well within the framework of our free enterprise system. Prof. M. Bruce Johnson, in his segment of "No Time To Confuse", charges bluntly that the Ford study is no more than a "vehicle for the authors' views on income redistribution and environmental action".

But even worse, in the view of Prof. William H. Riker, is the kind of ideology that motivates the authors of the Ford study.

"This kind of ideology is used to justify the existence of a planned society which works (if it works at all) only in the context of a police state. Much of the ordinary workaday life would have to be made illegal to force society to make fuel conservation the highest priority. We could make "energy conservation a matter of the highest national priority" as the report urges Congress to do, but the kind of life for which we conserved it would not be very attractive."

Like his fellow authors of "No Time To Confuse", Riker is a master of understatement. What the authors of the Ford study seem to be looking toward is a society where everything that isn't prohibited is compulsory.

Isn't it time that Americans began to demand that their government leaders seek solutions that liberate us rather than control us?Apparently, the Ford Foundation "experts" don't think so.

Mother's Day

For Mother's Day 1975, the clan will father and there will be a special meal with everyone helping. If the California weather is nice there will be swimming in the backyard pool. There will be special presents for Mom...all still a secret this week.

But Mother's Day for Frances Guzik will revolve around her favorite subject...her family...all 13. Michael, 27; Patrick, 26; Daniel, 23; Timothy, 22; Mark, 21; Clarice, 19; Nannette, 18; Tom, 17; Cecilia, 16; Cynthia, 15; Gregory, 13; Julianna, 10 and Shawn, 9.

Son Michael is a teacher for the emotionally handicapped for the State of California in Norwalk and Timothy works at Tretolite in Brea.

Salary Hike

management support salaries to the median and capital outlay and site improvement.

"As our income figures become more complete, we are able to get a clearer picture of what we can do," explained Superintendent of Schools John O. Tynes. Increases in this year's Average Daily Attendance account for the largest increase in income. "We're still going to have to cut corners, because we still have the lowest base revenue of any unified district in the county."

Tynes will begin meeting with representatives from the various employee organizations for reactions and suggestions on the board proposal and working conditions, it was reported.

Volunteens Sought For Program

The Yorba Linda Recreation Department is now taking applications for Volunteens, boy and girls between the ages of 13-18, to work in the summer recreation program.

The purposes of the Volunteen program are many. The program provides leadership training in recreation and supplements the Recreation Leaders. It gives the teens a preferred summer activity and provides training for future recreation leaders. Many of the paid workers in the recreation program over the years began as a Volunteen.

The program also provides work experience a young person needs and furnishes the manpower to assist in recreation activities. The assistance by the Volunteens allows hundreds of children to have an enjoyable and beneficial summer.

In addition, scholarships are awarded to those Volunteens who work through the summer program.

Volunteens are needed in nearly every facet of the program: Coaches of both boys' and girls' teams; perceptual training aides; helpers with Tiny Tots; leaders of girls' clubs; supervisors at movies; workers in publicity; helpers in the office; assistants in the new Game Room; swimming instructor aides; and workers at the Special Events.

Because changes take place slowly, over a period of years, we are apt to overlook the dramatic nature of improvements in health care. For example, during the Civil War, 50 percent of the wounded soldiers died! By World War I, this had been reduced to 8.1 percent. For World War II, it was 4.5 percent and for the Korean War, further improvement to 2.4 percent.

Rapid evacuation by air, the use of blood plasma and general improvement in medical techniques were all factors, of course, but the development of sulfonamide drugs and antibiotics have played a major part in this dramatic improvement.

Whatever medication your doctor prescribes, you can be sure the prescription will be filled promptly and accurately when you entrust it to us.

Jackie Young, Jeff Russel Wed In Double Ring Ceremony Here

Miss Jackie Young became the bride of Jeff Russell on March 29 in a double ring ceremony at Yorba Linda Friends Church. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Young of 4721 Main Street and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ken Russell of Brea.

Rev. Glen Shaffer officiated at the afternoon wedding, and Whit Cromwell was soloist.

The bride wore a long gown of nylon organza trimmed with lace applique and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white rose buds.

Maid of honor Miss Mary Ann Wolfinshon of Oakland was attired in a long green cotton print, accented with an old fashioned nosegay. Bridesmaids Misses Patty Fisher, Debbie Dalehite, Nancy Hoover, Gale Johnson, Char Russell and Judy Horner were similarly attired in blue cotton, also printed with old-fashioned flowers.

Darcy Miller served as flower girl and Michael Dismuke was ringbearer.

Male attendants included Best Man Craig Davis; and ushers Bob Adler, Bob Gomez, Mike Speidel, Mike Murphy, Todd Russell and Mike Horner.

A reception hostessed by Pat Rath and Ruth Fredenburg followed the ceremony.

Other attendants were Misses Devvie Young and Kellie Young who took charge of the guest book; and candle lighters Jim and Bob Young.

The new Mrs. Russel graduated from Troy High school and Orange County Business College. The groom is a graduate of Brea Olinda High School and Fullerton College.

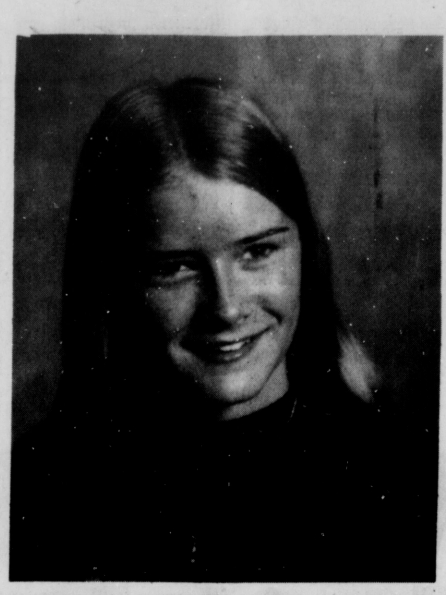
Shower Is Surprise For Carol

Miss Carol Dickinson wa recently surprised at going away shower given i her honor by the women of Faith Baptist Church. Miss Dickinson is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Phil Dickinson of Yorba Linda and will be leaving on June 16 for Naples, Italy under the Missionary assistance (MAC) of the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society (CBFMS) for a one year term. The MAC program offers short term opportunities for individuals between the ages of 19 and 70 to serve in whatever capacity they are skilled in various foreign countries for anywhere from three months to two years. Miss Dickinson will be secretary to Rev. Bill Howrey, also of CBFMS, working at the Centro Biblico Universitario.

After singing and speaking briefly, sharing her testimony and how the opportunity to go to Naples came about, Miss Dickinson was escorted to another room where a decorated cake and a table full of gifts awaited her. There were approximately 40 attending the shower.

Miss Dickinson will finish her second year at Fullerton College in June and is employed by H. Salt Esquire Fish and Chips in Yorba Linda.



ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED---Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kelly of Yorba Linda recently announced the engagement of their daughter, Ann-Marie to Richard McKellogg, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert McKellogg of Fullerton. Both are graduates of Troy High School and are currently attending Fullerton College. The bride-to-be is employed as a teacher at Palo Alto Pre-School in Yorba Linda and her fiance is employed by Alpha Beta Markets. A May 24 wedding is planned at St. Juliana's Church in Fullerton.

Pageant Plans

Mr. and Mrs. David Cordell and daughter Rebecca, who is the reigning Queen of Placentia, were hosts recently for a "get acquainted" party at their home for all the contestants for the 1975 Miss Placentia Pageant and previous Miss Placentia winners.

"I think it is just fantastic that so many girls are entering the pageant," said Queen Becky, "because in this competition every girl in a winner!" Miss Cordell echoes the general philosophy of beauty pageant contestants as a whole. Their poise, confidence and optimism about life and people attest to the benefit of which Miss Cordell speaks.

The schedule for preparations, training and rehearsals has been set for swim suit fitting May 5; "get acquainted" night, May 7; walk-through practice, May 12 and dress rehearsal, May 19. Tutoring the contestants in make-up, modeling, speaking and clothes will be a corps of former Miss Placentias.

The show will be presented at the Valencia High School Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. on Saturday, May 24.

Womens' Club Will Install New Officers

Members of the Yorba Linda Women's Club will install new officers at the May 27 general meeting and pot luck luncheon at noon in the clubhouse.

The program will be a demonstration by Mike Jenson, co-owner of the "Plant Shop" in Fullerton. He will show how to make your own hanging baskets so come prepared to cultivate your "green thumb", says Dorothy Brough, program chairman.

Hostesses for the pot luck luncheon are Mrs. Robert Pollock and Mrs. Bradford Richardson assisted by Mesdames J.E. Dotson, John Cosmos, Robert Clare, Ray Lycett and Earl Taylor. Members will bring salad or dessert.

People, Places And Things

BY JUDY BRANSTAD

PLEGELS IN ENGLAND

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Plegel have just returned from a whirlwind trip to England. They stayed at the Grosvenor's House, one of the older, elegant hotels in London.

Among the many sights the Plegels enjoyed were: the Tower of London, Hampton Court, Windsor Castle, West Abbey, and the underground silver vaults. They saw many castles and churches, often adjoining graveyards with headstones of such prominent names in history as Sir Isaac Newton, among others. With beautiful weather and outstanding subjects, Mr. Plegel found it easy to take 170 pictures during their stay.

The Plegels dined at Great Fosters Hunting Lodge, which is centuries old. There he learned that it was customary for hunters to stop hunting when it became dark and seek shelter at the nearest dwelling for the night. Sometimes this would mean a hunter would stay in a private house, and so it was when hunting became widely popular, that these hunting lodges came into being.

Some of the old buildings often had a variety of architectural styles incorporated in their structure. This conglomeration of styles occurred because they were built in stages the kings in power at the time of a certain stage of construction would order his preferential style to be used.

According to Mr. Plegel, the inflation rate in England has risen 44 percent in the last two years and he observed that an ordinary pair of mens shoes cost $50 and mens white shirts were selling for $25 each.

Aside from the usual tourist sights, Mr. Plegel visited a gambling casino which is not open to the general public and found himself gambling next to Dukes and other noblemen of England. Mr. Plegel also said that in England, it is required that a person give two days notice before gambling, hopefully to prevent an impulsive loss.

A farewell dinner was held for the tour group at the Connaught, the largest dining hall in London. They were greeted at the entrance by Scottish bagpipes and a drummer and were entertained in the dining hall by singing troubadors.

After a busy week of seeing many impressive things, Mr. Plegel said that he and Mrs. Plegel were most impressed with the hospitality of the English people, and that this was one of the finest trips that they had been on.

The Plegels are active in Placentia in the Rotary Club and the Round table.

Originally a Wisconsin resident, she received her B.A. from Wisconsin State University, after which she taught music and English at Yorba Linda Junior High for several years until she entered chiropractic college.

In previous ceremonies on the same day, she became the bride of Dr. Donald A. Welsh of Leon, Iowa. Dr. Gulickson, who will retain her maiden name professionally, has joined her husband in the practice of chiropractic in Leon, Iowa.

YL Students In Music Festival

The National Piano Foundation in conjunction with the Los Angeles Pacesetters will present 150 young piano students in their Third Annual Creative Musicianship Festival to be held May 8, 9 and 10 at Santa Ana College in the Music Building.

Students of Beverly Harlow of Yorba Linda who will be participating are: Kendall Fike, Heather Harlow, Holly Harris, Debbie Lacy, June Vouga all of Yorba Linda, and Jennifer Johnson of Brea.

Students of Paul Ross of Yorba Linda who will be participating are: Michelle Ennis and Mary Walters, Yorba Linda; Billy Cassidy, Mark Kerber and Sonia Kerber, Placentia; Cindi Ashcraft and Wendy Boettcher, Fullerton; Tim Price, Brea; Gary June, La Habra; Kent Mossaman, FOuntain Valley.

The public is invited to observe the students in groups of 10-12 as they demonstrate skill and knowledge in sight reading, transposing, ear training, key signatures and other essentials. In a second session they will perform solos, duets, improvisations and original compositions.

Serving as adjudicators will be National Piano Foundation consultants Donna Bashaw of Mission Viejo; Elise Sharon of Manhatten Beach, graduate of Cal State Long Beach; and Mary Rae Melgun of Woodland Hills, graduate of U.C.L.A. All three have studied with Dr. Robert Pace (Head of Piano Instruction at Teachers College, Columbia University and Educational Director of the National Piano Foundation) who developed this outstanding method of creative group piano instruction nationally accepted in colleges, universities and private studios.

Future Of College Site Uncertain, Says Hawthorne

by Paul Bush

Plans to build a community college in Yorba Linda are "pretty much indefinite right now," according to Robert Hawthorne, vice president of the North Orange County Community College District Board of Trustees.

The proposed college site, northeast of Fairmont and Yorba Linda, is now leased as a horse stable and shooting range.

Five years ago during a growth boom, Hawthorne said, "it looked as if we would have a community college site started." Currently, "we are actually seeing a decline in the elementary and high school population. While at the same time, community college enrollments are growing. So it's anybody's guess what will happen in the next five years," he added.

"No doubt that land will be valuable for community use some time in the future," Hawthorne said. One proposal is to convert the site to an agricultural extension for use by local high schools.

Approximately 80% of the cost of financing new building is paid by the State of California. After the necessary applications are sent to Sacramento, Hawthorne said, five years can pass before the State decides how much of the costs it will pay. When the district begins construction, it must pay any cost increases caused by inflation.

"To be sure we're not overbuilt, we're not committing any money to new buildings. Cypress College will have to be built and full of students," before any new construction is started. "But if we should see the need for special programs and finance them ourselves, then that would go ahead," he said.

Hawthorne cites economic reasons for the growth of community colleges. The average age of the community college student is over 26 years. Many of these students, Hawthorne said, are returning for retraining or are enrolling in college after their children begin grammar school. More high school students are continuing their education. "If there aren't jobs available, younger people will go to school," he said.

Hawthorne is often questioned why community colleges have so many students, but so few graduates. "The reason," he says, is that "people leave when they get the job they want."

Another financial problem facing the community college board at this time is the formation of a new salary schedule for district teachers. Hawthorne, who is a research engineer with Union Oil, said it is "always real hard to know what to base it (the salary schedule) on."

Presently, Hawthorne said, the Board is "trying everything they can think of to acquire more land around Fullerton College for parking."

Hawthorne does not feel a parking structure would solve the problem. "I can't quite see putting a million dollars into a structure to park cars for just the peak periods," he said.

Hawthorne first became involved in education as a member of the Yorba Linda elementary school board.

Although a trustee position can be a springboard to politics, Hawthorne said that politics are not his goal. "Part of it is just the challenge," Hawthorne said. "I think I would be involved in community work of some sort no matter what."

"I'm interested in community college. I believe in it and what it stands for," Hawthorne said. To Hawthorne, the community college means, "meeting the educational needs of this area, so that people can get the job they want, have the government they want, and understand what's going on.

Jaycees Seek Outstanding Teacher

The Placentia Jaycees are searching for an outstanding educator.

The search is part of a statewide program to "spotlight the achievements and dedication of professional educators," according to Jaycee representative William E. Owen.

Teachers between the ages of 21 and 35 are eligible for nomination. Anyone in the community can submit a nomination, by sending the name and school address of the educator to Owen, at 1576 Sherwood Village Circle, Placentia 92670.

Nominations are judged locally by a panel of civic leaders. Winners from localities throughout the state are eligible for state competition, to be held sometime later this year in Pomona.

Crol Downey, was the 1973-city and state winner.

READING TIME--Karl Baur [left], Ricky Kust, and Mrs. Pat Baur browse through some of the books that will be available at the annual book sale May 17, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. in the Yorba Linda Library's multipurpose room. Friends of the Library sponsor the event to raise funds for the library.

Library Friends Booksale On May 17

The Friends of the Yorba Linda Library are preparing for their annual book sale to be held Saturday May 17, from 9-5 p.m. Book donations are always accepted at the Yorba Linda Library's desk. If you are interested in having the books picked up call 528-8767 or 528-8677.

The Friends again have received a good number of books. The books can be purchased for as little as 10-35 cents and some children's books can be purchased for just 2 or 3 cents.

There is always a good selection of childrens books. In order not to be disappointed be there early to purchase children's books.

There are a few sets of encyclopedias, all kinds of text books (old ones to cut up for school reports and new ones for that next course), paperbacks at 15 or 30 cents and Condensed Readers Digest books for 15 cents.

There are many issues of a ham radio magazine and National geographics and other magazines. This year there is a selection of records. There are always great curiosities such as old or rare books.

Some of the other groups of books to be purchased are religious books for children and adults, cookbooks, art, drama, foreign language, "family life" and "how to" books.

The fiction and nonfiction books are mostly 30 to 35 cents. There is no presale and the sale is one day only. During the last hour of the sale, from 4 to 5 p.m. all books will be 10 cents.

Katy Hellaurer, the children's librarian will be at the book sale to let everyone know about the children's summer reading program.

Story Hour Scheduled At Library

Attention! All children signed up in the Placentia Library District Story hours.

The last story hour in the session will be Tuesday, May 12 for the kindergarten through third grade group and Wednesday, May 13 for the pre-school group. A special Frog and Toad puppet show is planned for both days.

Because of the large number of children signed up for the pre-school story hour it will be necessary to have two sessions, the library reports. The summer story hour will begin Wednesday, June 18 and run through August 20 at 10:30 a.m. and Thursday, June 19 through August 21 at the same time.

Sign ups for the Summer Reading Club for school age children will begin Monday, June 16.

Signups For Local Soccer Association Slated

Registration for the Junior United Soccer Association (JUSA) will begin in Placentia and Yorba Linda on Saturday, May 10. Placentia School District students will register at the Backs Building, located on Bradford Avenue just north of Chapman Avenue. Yorba Linda School District students will register at Yorba Linda Junior High, located on Casa Loma. The hours are 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.

All boys aged 7 through 18 and all girls aged 7 through 15 as of December 1, 1975, are eligible to sign up. Birth certificates are required for all first-time registrants, and everyone must be accompanied by a parent.

There are no bench warmers in JUSA everyone plays. A priority regulation of JUSA is that all players play at least half the game. Teams are made up of 12 players with a maximum growth held at 15. Players will learn the skills of the game from trained coaches, and games will be refereed by schooled referees.

JUSA is a non-profit corporation formed to advance and promote youth soccer in the community, to provide organized recreational soccer competition, to develop the skills and knowledge of the game, and to offer training in team effort, personal skills and character building.

Boys and girls registering for JUSA will be placed in divisions according to their age as follows:

Senior Division, 16 through 18 years; Division I, 13 through 15 years; Division II, 11 and 12 years; Division III, nine and ten years; and Division IV, seven and eight years.

The association completed a very successful 1974 season, with over 300 boys competing in 20 evenly matched teams. The reception of soccer was so phenominal last year that growth of JUSA is expected to triple this year. Such a great interest was expressed by girls that it has become necessary to provide a league for them also.

An additional day for registering will be held on Saturday, May 17 at the Backs Building. Hours for that day will also be from 10:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m.

A donation of $15.00 will be accepted for the first player in a family, $12.00 for the second, and $10.00 for the third or more. These donations are to cover the costs of a full uniform, insurance, and equipment.

Brea Clinches Pennant

By Brian Hilderbrand

El Dorado lost all hope of taking the Orange League Championship this year in baseball as Brea beat the Hawks, 12-1, Friday, clinching the pennant with two games yet to play.

"We failed to make the big plays, and that cost us the game," ED coach Gary Cardinale explained. And that was the Hawks downfall, as they had the bases loaded twice, and failed to bring any men across.

The Hawks only run came in the fourth inning, when the Wildcats were leading, 5-0. Jim Hyak scored from second on Dan Petry's single.

Petry started on the mound for El Dorado, but was removed when his arm stiffened. Petry was 4-0 in league going into the game, but was handed the loss. Dan was relieved by Quentin Gallivan, an ace with the curve-ball.

Brea then bombarded Gallivan for four runs, and was replaced by Bob Fine in the fifth inning. The Wildcats kept up with their routing of ED's pitchers, knocking Fine out after giving up five runs. Jack Ayer, on his first pitching job, gave up only two runs in his 1⅓ innings on the mound, neither of those runs were earned.

Jim Marshall got the win for Brea, going the distance, striking out five, walking one, and giving up 9 hits.

Brea did all their scoring in the last five innings, scoring two runs in each of the third, fifth, and seventh innings, and picking up three runs in each of the fourth and sixth innings. The Wildcats spread out 11 hits in the seven innings.

Cardinale spotted trouble in the error department, as the Hawks committed six errors, including a three-base fielding error enabling a man to score on a single.

"Brea won league easier than I though they would, I believed it would come right down to the final game," Cardinale stated. El Dorado is now 4½ games behind Brea, and 2½ games out of second place. Sonora is in second.

Pat Vizenor, Randy Lunzman and Dan Petry played outstanding games, each collecting two hits. Petry held the Hawks' only RBI and double.

El Dorado played Canyon Monday, and will square off against Valencia Thursday, at Valencia.

The Tigers have only two wins in league, both against El Dorado.

Registration Still Open

Tiger-Fish Swim In Third

BY CHARLES ROSPAW

In their first home meet of the season, the Tigerfish of the Valencia swim team, girls were edged out of second by the Brea Wildcats with a score of 41-44 as the raiders of Sonora, as strong as always, swam away with first with a score of 79.

The Tigers apparently lost second place in the meet during the 200 medley relay, in which they were expected to finish strongly, when butterflyer Sue Binswanger was disqualified for an illegal stroke.

Strong finishes by Shannon Scherer in the 100 free and 100 fly, by Binswanger in the 200 individual medley and Diane McBride in the 100 breast and surprising finishes by the flying fish in diving, with Kathy Olson taking third and Meg Bradford taking fourth, were not enough to offset the loss.

Coach Sue Overly said that "This team has the most determination of any I've seen, but we don't have the depth we need to win against strength like Sonora."

Valencia's next meet will be today in the Tiger's pool against La Habra and cross town rivals El Dorado. All meets begin at 3:15...

Hawks, Tigers Fall To Aztecs Take Two Wins

by Jim Enright

The Esperanza Aztecs moved up in the win column, as they registered back to back victories in league action last week, nipping El Dorado 1-0 and outlasting Valencia 9-8 in a nine inning contest.

Against the Golden Hawks, first baseman Paul Peterson doubled off the left field wall to score catcher Charlie Barbour for the Aztec victory. Winning pitcher was Jim Teahan, who picked up his third shut out--raising his record to 6-2. Teahan holds the best pitching record in the Orange League.

In the nine inning game against Valencia, fine hitting was demonstrated by Paul Peterson, who hit a towering home run in the first inning with one on; while Richard Laberg connected for the Aztecs second round triper with bases empty in the seventh inning.

Tiger Nick Garcia hit a two-run homer to put Valencia ahead by one in the top of the last inning, but Laberg's home run in the bottom half sent the game into extra innings. Both teams scored twice in the eighth inning, tieing the score at eight apiece. With bases loaded, in the ninth, third baseman Bob Taft took a walk, scoring Teahan for the Aztec victory.

Both wins, including the Aztec's 10-1 rout of Canyon, upped Esperanza's league mark to 6-7

Poppy Day On May 16

Paper poppies will bloom throughout the Placentia Unified School District Friday, May 16, as children participate in the annual poppy sale sponsored by the Placentia American Legion Auxiliary.

The yearly fund-raising drive gives students an opportunity to donate money to help patients in the Long Beach Veterans Hospital, explained Mrs. Gertrude White, local poppy chairperson.

"Last year the schools gave $333.44, most of which was used to buy a special wheel chair used for patients who have had orthopedic and vascular surgery," she said. The balance was used for materials to make the 5,400 poppies to be sold this year.

"Poppies are made at the hospital, mostly by blind patients," Mrs. White said. "The activity is used as therapy to give patients a feeling of doing something useful."

The total amount raised in Placentia last year was $734, she noted.

READY TO RIDE on POA registered Bearstep Splashdown, owned by Ed Hale, is 5 year-old Kimmy Corrigan, as 8 year-old Randy Kane waits his turn and Mrs. Carol Kane, president of Mabel Paine PTA, holds the reins. Pony rides will be a featured attraction at the school carnival May 10 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Theme of the 1975 convention was "I Was Hungry and..." Guest speakers addressed the convention on the topic of hunder around the world. The convention offering was designated to go to Lutheran World Relief.

Demonstration Day Set

Dominion Christian School extends to the public an invitation to join interested parents in seeing demonstrations of individualized teaching techniques. The demonstrations will be conducted by Mrs. Carol Wilson, director of the school and Miss Helene Rufran, training teacher and consultant.

The demonstrations will be given on Tuesday, May 13 at 7:30 in the evening at the school which is located in the facilities of the Rose Drive Friends Church, on Rose Drive at Bastanchury Road in Yorba Linda.

These methods will be used at Dominion in the August summer school as well as in the regular curriculum next year. One of the "new" features of this method is the extensive use of the traditional Early American slate board which encourages continuous teacher/student communication in a quiet, structured classroom.

With enrollment for the Fall at near capacity, seating will be limited to approximately 200 observers.

Citizens Install Equipment

Citizens from the community of Atwood will continue the installation of the Jamison "Imagine City Mark IV" playground equipment at Parque de los Ninos, with the assistance of city personnel.

The unit consists of a large center tower with four satellite pieces of equipment radiating out from the main unit.

Installation also will begin on a four-seat swing unit in the Tot Lot area of the park.

Singers Seek More Voices

The Placentia Village Singers vocal group, directed by Glenn Wanke, performed at the first Bicentennial Choral Festival. The event was held at the Retail Clerks Auditorium in Buena Park.

The festival featured various vocal groups from as far away as San Diego. It was narrated by CBS television personality, Wink Martindale.

The Village Singers were honored to open the festival with a Patriotic Fantasy written by George M. Cohan. The singers then performed selections from different eras of American groups, ending with Boogie Woogie Bugle Boy, from the second World War period.

Sponsored by the Placentia Recreation Department, the Singers are currently holding auditions in order to expand their membership to include local vocalists. Potential members are required to have a vocal or choral background. They must have the ability to learn music quickly, do elementary staging and choreography, be willing to purchase or make the group outfits and be able to release Tuesday evenings from 7:30 to 9:45 p.m. at Kraemer Intermediate School in Placentia.

Future plans for the singers include three more choral festivals, a pop concert, spot concerts in the park, possible television appearances and a short tour sometime in the future. Anyone interested in auditioning should call 528-7645 or the Placentia Recreation Department for further details.

Bob Richards Is Speaker

Olympic decathlon champion Bob Richards will be the keynote speaker at the May 14 Possibility Thinkers Luncheon for Business and Professional People at Garden Grove Community Church, 12141 Lewis St.

Richards, one of the top polevaulters in history, will speak in the GGCC sanctuary following a buffet luncheon at noon. An All-American in track and field for 11 years, he won the title of American National Champion of the Decathlon three times and has been honored with three Hall of Fame awards.

Richards, who competed in the 1948, 1952 and 1956 Olympic Games, set a new Olympic record at Helsinki in 1952 and is still the only polevaulter in Olympic history to win the gold medal twice. He was voted to the All-Time Olympic Team and later covered the Olympic Games as radio and television broadcaster for NBC and CBS, respectively.

Though most of the honors received are for his phenomenal athletic accomplishments, he also is noted for his contributions to the general welfare of the people and was named Good Will Ambassador to Asia by the State Department in 1954.

In cooperation with the United States Jaycees, who named him one of the Ten Outstanding Young Men in America in 1957, Richards originated the basic ideas for the National Jr. Champ program, encouraging young people to participate in sports.

In the interest of national health, he organized the Bob Richards Fitness Crusade in 1969 and rode his bicycle across the United States, from Los Angeles to New York.

He was appointed by President Eisenhower as a member of the President's Council for Youth Fitness and continues to support this program through his active role on the council. As a member of the Advisory Conference on Physical Fitness and Sports he represented President Nixon at the 1972 Summer Olympics Games in Munich Germany.

A graduate of the University of Illinois with bot bachelor's and master's degrees, Richards received the honorary degree of Doctor of Humanities in May, 1972, from Northwood Institute. He has taught philosophy at La Verne College and has authored the book, "The Heart of a Champion." Richards currently is writing "What's Right with America," crystallizing 25 years of travel and speaking throughout America and the world.

Reservations for this monthly luncheon and the June 4 luncheon, featuring retired UCLA basketball coach John Wooden, may be made through Rev. David Bailey's office, 534-0275.

Savings, Loan Executive Comments on Variable Rates

Labor unions have won support from an unexpected quarter in their fight to head off mortgage interest rates that would vary with changes in the money market, according to a recent report.

Breaking sharply with other leaders in the savings and loan industry, Edward L. Johnson, chairman and president of the huge Los Angeles based Financial Federation, says variable rate mortgages would make less money available for housing.

Johnson testified before a House banking subcommittee in April, that is holding hearings on legislation to prohibit the Federal Home Loan Bank board from allowing federally chartered savings and loan institutions to issue the variable rate mortgages.

Johnson, noting that California already allows state chartered institutions to issue such mortgages, said he did not want to deny the privilege to federal savings and loan associations.

But Johnson, whose company controls 11 associations with 40 offices in California, said the change would put the savings and loan industry into a "savings rate war" with commercial banks because a ceiling on interest paid to savers would have to be lifted.

The result, he said, would be that higher interest rates on savings would be passed on to homeowners who might not be able to afford the higher rates.

"From the consumer's viewpoint, such action should be intolerable, as it could be fatal to the American concept of individual home ownership," Johnson commented.

Union officials who appeared before the committee said much the same thing. But Johnson's colleagues in the savings and loan industry have contended that variable rates would make more mortgage loan money available in periods of high interest rates.

The FHLBB proposal to allow variable rate mortgages was supported by Deputy Treasury Secretary Stephen S. Gardner.

"It would be very unwise to prohibit by law the natural development of a new variety of ways to finance the purchase of homes," Gardner said. However, he added that he did not think variable rate mortgages would be "very popular" for some time.

George Miller, executive vice president of the Communications Workers of America, said that the variable rates would hit workers especially hard at a time when they already are being hurt by inflation.

Noting that the FHLBB had dropped a similar proposal in 1972, Miller said a family that bought a home in that year would have found the interest rate rising from seven per cent to nine per cent by 1974 if the plan had been in effect. On a $30,000 home, he said, a monthly mortgage payment that was $197.50 in 1972 would have soared to $237.83 two years later.

John J. Sheehan, a lobbyist for the United Steelworkers, said real estate salesmen would assure prospective buyers that interest rates probably would go down.

"The less sophisticated buyers will be victimized," he said, " and left with burdens thay might not otherwise have undertaken."

Under the FHLBB's proposal, mortgage interest rates could be raised a maximum of two and a half per cent. Increases could be made only at six month intervals, with each increase limited to one half per cent.

Blodgett Named To Post

Veteran real estate man Larry Blodgett of Orange has been named as a representative to the Red Carpet Realtors' Regional Council which serves all of Southern California. Blodgett, currently secretary-treasurer of the Orange County Council, also will serve as chairman of the Region's Training and Education Committee and, by being on the Regional Council, will serve as a representative to the National Red Carpet Council as well.

The new regional representative is a partner with his wife Jeanie and son Jeff in an office at 2660 Santiago Blvd. in Orange. The office serves Yorba Linda, Placentia, Anaheim Hills, Orange and Villa Park. Another Blodgett office soon will be opening at Imperial Highway and the Riverside Freeway.

Larry has had 20 years experience in the real estate business, previously serving with one of the largest residential re-sale organizations in the country where he was honored twice as both salesman and manager of the year. He joined Red Carpet in 1972. Larry and Jeanie have two other sons, Larry Jr. and William, and live in the Yorba Linda Hills, close to their office.

HERE'S WHY!

BEFORE YOU DECIDE TO SELL YOUR OWN HOME...

...YOU HAD BETTER ASK YOURSELF THESE QUESTIONS.

1. How long will it take to sell?
2. How much cash can I get for my property in the current market?
3. How do I protect my family from undesirable callers?
4. How do I know whether prospects are financially qualified?
5. Do I know how to help a buyer obtain financing?
6. Am I guaranteeing anything to the buyer which will obligate me later?
7. How do I avoid wasting time with "Sightseers" and still not miss any real prospects?
8. What can I do to sell my home for more money?
9. Do I know how to invest the proceeds of a sale profitably in other real estate?

WHEN YOU LIST YOUR PROPERTY WITH A LOCAL REALTOR, YOU HAVE AN EXPERT WORKING FOR YOU. THIS EXPERT'S SERVICE WILL COST YOU NOTHING UNLESS THE RESULT YOU WANT IS ACHIVED: A SALE AT TERMS AGREEABLE TO YOU.

CELEBRATING CINCO DE MAYO was right in style in Placentia this week as youngsters of all ages at various area schools found the holiday a good excuse for dancing, songs, merriment and special foods. Here youngsters from the McFadden Elementary School Title 1 Preschool, under the direction of Angelita O'Rourke, try on their colorful costumes and prepare to rehearse some of the dances performed at the school Tuesday on the Sixth of May. Tigers Lose Ball Games

BY CHARLES ROSPAW

The Valencia Tigers failed to turn around their scores once again, losing to Sonora 7-0 and to Esperanza 9-8 in extra innings.

In the Sonora game, the Tigers were one hit by the Raiders, and only had one man reach second base, as pitcher Mike McCall reached third with two outs in the final inning.

In the last meeting between the Esperanza Aztecs and Tigers, what started with a bang ended in a whisper as the two teams rammed out five home runs, only to finish the game when Valencia relief pitcher Ed Williams walked a man with the bases loaded to score the winning run in the ninth inning.

Little League: A Lot Of Work Before You Can Play

How does one man start a brand new Little League? With a lot of determination and devotion.

In Placentia's case, the man was Steve March, motivated by the continuing Little League career of a son...who found once in his new Placentia home, that he had no place to play.

Placentia was a Little League no man's land, caught between the legal boundaries of Yorba Linda, who claimed a part of it and Fullerton, who stayed out of it.

After discussion with wife Gerry, Steve March accepted the responsibility of starting the mammoth task that was to bring Little League, for the first time, to Placentia.

"You couldn't pay anybody enough to do something like this," March recalls now.

Through March's efforts and the people he attracted to his cause, Little League was a success from the very beginning.

It all began with a letter to Williamsport, Little League headquarters. How do you start a Little League?

A lot of literature came back. Telephone calls went to Jack Woodie, then district administrator for Little League and to Dick Samp, head of parks and recreation for the city. That was March of 1968. No Little League in Placentia that year, but March's successful crusade had begun.

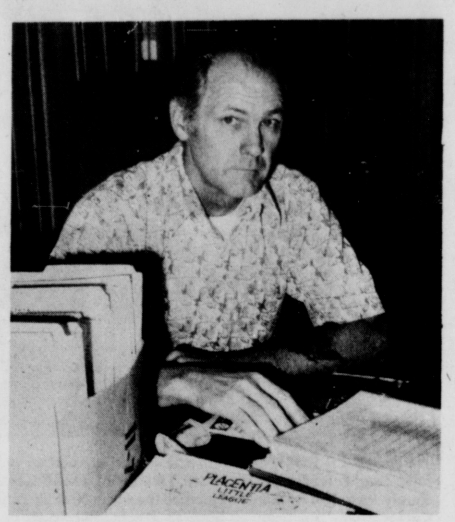
That year March's son Dan played with East Fullerton and March ran into fellow Hughes worker Roger Wilkins, who was president of Little League in that area but moving into Placentia.

Wilkins eventually became Placentia Little League's first president and March the vice president. But that was only after a few border skirmishes. To get a Little League franchise, you must have boundaries.

"We had our first boundary meeting with Yorba Linda," March recalls. (Yorba Linda at that time was including everybody in their Little League up to Valencia Avenue, well into Placentia). "Nothing was accomplished," March remembers. "Everybody went home mad."

Subsequent meetings set the boundaries and a first step had been taken.

March first successfully found people interested in his cause by flyers distributed in schools, printed by the city of Placentia. "I got managers this way and got board members."



STEVE MARCH, the originator of Placentia's thriving Little League, sits among memorabilia of the awesome task of starting such a major enterprise with, at first no helpers and no funds. The league began as a huge success and has grown each year.

By 1969 Placentia kids were playing in their own Little League...462 of them on 32 teams. A clinic program was begun...a Placentia invention for 8 year olds that has since been adopted by Williamsport.

March remembers the clinic effort well. A second son, Jimmy played in it and he says it is perhaps his favorite program.

Little League was not only launched in Placentia, but was a huge success. "We were the second biggest league in the district our first year," March remembers with pride.

Size however, can be a disadvantage in Little League, March believes, but does not think that Placentia is geographically suited to splitting into two leagues.

"When it gets so big, you kind of lose touch with the kids...you lose all of the friendliness. It's now so big and spread out."

March recalls that his phone was so busy during the Little League season that "if a board member wanted to talk to me they would call after 11 p.m. because you couldn't break in before that."

In appreciation of Dick Samp's efforts that first year, March recalls, "It's unbelievable how much help he was. He also helped on his own time. We had so many emergencies, you wouldn't believe. Dick would be there at 5 or 6 in the morning right with us. He was busy with calls, too. Mine!"

An established Little League has credit. But a new one has none. March, Samp and a third man, Carl McManis took it upon themselves to order the $6,000 in equipment needed to start a new Little League.

The first year of Placentia Little League began in 1969 with all the trimmings. Equipment pickup, opening day parade (around Bradford Stadium field), team pictures, the pancake breakfast and the annual dance.

"One tremendous person was Marge Santos. She probably knew more about Little League than most of us men. A fabulous organizer."

On April 7, 1969 the league's first newsletter was published with Nancy Bennett as editor.

"The whole league had a picnic," March recalls, "and everybody who was actively involved in Little League was a board member."

"The first catering truck came from West Fullerton," March relates. "That truck got as far as Helen Bradshaw's house and that's as far as it ever went. After that it needed care. Helen got the truck for us."

A Women's Auxiliary was formed with Marjorie Santos as president. "Louis Gomez got a lot of our sponsors," March recalls. "Herb Abraham did our logo for us."

"The funny thing is, baseball was my worst sport!"

March feels now that the city of Placentia is being remiss in not supplying major Little League fields with proper lighting.

"The city always has the money to spend foolishly, like putting up a forest in the middle of the street," March says referring to the city's new median strips. "Absolutely stupid! But they never have money for facilities that are going to do somebody some good."

"And if there is anything we need in this whole city, and it's a shame because we have enough people here to have the facilities, that's lights for a major field... either in conjunction with the school or someone else. Yorba Linda did it for about $20,000 at that time."

March also started Placentia Little League with a two-inning rule, which allows every boy to play at least two innings of every game.

"It's for the boys," March explains. How can you possibly have a kid sitting there. How can he go to a game and just sit. If everybody does it, then it's equal. You're playing on equal terms." He believes the rule also should be instituted in All Star play.

If March were to change anything about Placentia Little League it would probably be that every boy should have a different manager every year. "That way every boy will have a chance to have one good manager, one good baseball man and be on one winning team in his years of Little League," he explains.

The league's first year All Star manager was Phillip Offenhauser and important to the effort were the services of Ralph Gardner, Kelly Rosas, Al Broaddus, Hector Correa, Kris Jacobs and Jack Burton, all still with Little League.

Aztec Girls Tops In Track

Girls on Esperanza High School's track and field team raced to an impressive victory Thursday as they qualified 11 entries for the Eastern Sectional CIF meet at Claremont College on May 24.

Coach Joan Stewart's team piled up 61 points, almost twice as many overall as their nearest competitor in the Orange-Freeway League, La Habra High with 37 points.

Winning honors in individual events were Laura Johnson, first in 880-yard dash, with a time of 2:26.8; Tammy Hales, first in the 440-yard dash, 61.8; Diane Haines, second in the 440-yard dash, 62.9; Laura Johnson, first in the mile run, 5:34.6; Rachel Smith, second in the mile run, 5:37.6; Marci Campbell, second in the 220-yard dash, 27.8; Karin Donnelly and Wendy Thomas, who won first and second in shot put with distance of 35'6 3/4" and 33' 1/4", respectively.

Three relay teams also came home with tickets to the CIF competition. A medley relay team of Marci Campbell, Beve Danforth, Laura Johnson and Janet Pease took first place with a time of 1:57.0, and their sister team of Lisa Berger, Tammy Hales, Margaret Saucedo and Diane Haines came in second with 1:58.1.

A 440-relay team composed of Lisa Berger, Marci Campbell, Janet Pease and Beve Danforth came in second with a time of 52.2

The female Aztec team finished their league season with an 8-0 record and won the sweepstakes trophy at the Laguna Beach Invitational in competition with 30 schools.

The tiny country of Portugal recently showed the world what it thought of the right to vote. After nearly a half century of Fascist dictatorship, 96% of the population dressed up in their finest and went to the polls in a gay, fiesta-like mood.

The happy voters said, "No thanks" to a Communist regime, and endorsed a moderate government. The election was more symbolic than anything else, since a military junta still has the power to dictate the structure of the constitution and even name the President. Nevertheless, the emphatic voice of nearly nine million people cannot be ignored.

Another Election

Can you imagine what would happen in Placentia, Yorba Linda, and Anaheim if 96% of us voters turned out to cast our votes in the upcoming May 27 school bond election. We would make the news too, but more importantly, we would by our actions proclaim our respect of the ballot box and teach our children that same respect.

On election day, think of the tiny country of Portugal and make it to your precinct to vote. If you don't have a way to get there, call me and I'll drive or arrange transportation for you.

This election will not be symbolic. It will mean concrete results of new classrooms and schools for our kids--if you vote yes. Your yes vote may even help the staggering unemployment rate.

Psychologists tell us when we do something constructive we should share that action with our children. It reinforces their self-image and effectively makes them part of the group. So, when you vote on May 27, tell your youngsters you are voting for new schools for them, and then do it. It will make you and your children feel great!

Emerson Said

"The secret of education lies in respecting the pupil."

Our Candidate

A beautiful young lady has solved the no-candidate problem that our office was facing in the Miss Placentia Pageant. Her name is Lisa Jean Gerber, she's a student at El Dorado High School, and now is the Herbert Hawkins Realtors' candidate in the Miss Placentia contest. Like the guy on the television commercial says about his wife, we also say about our Lisa, "She's our candidate and we're proud of her!" And from the way she looks, Lisa has been taking good care of herself too. Welcome, Lisa!

Our office is just across the street from the Chamber of Commerce, so we see all the lovely young women coming and going as they apply to be in the Pageant. This location is sometimes a definite advantage. All the candidates face tough competition. It's a good thing I am not a judge; it would be the first pageant in history with all winners.

The colorful affair will be held at Valencia High School on May 24, at 7:30 p.m. We have some free tickets for our clients and customers, so stop in and pick yours up.
